Introduction

L'Institut pour la prévention de la criminalité (IPC) développe et rassemble les connaissances scientifiques et les expériences reconnues. Il travaille de concert avec les gouvernements et les organisations afin que le recours à ces connaissances se traduise pour les Canadiens par les taux de criminalité et de victimisation plus bas.

Cet outil fournit des ressources qui aideront les responsables de politiques en prévention et les praticiens à utiliser les connaissances acquises dans le domaine de la prévention dans le développement et la mise-en-œuvre de nouvelles initiatives.
